Oh, the Things They Invented!
Bonnie Worth 2019-12-10
From the first printing press to the World Wide Web—the Cat looks at inventors and inventions that have changed our lives! The Cat in the Hat goes back in time to meet with the masterminds of more than a dozen inventions that made a major impact on our lives today—from famous figures like Thomas Edison, Alexander Graham Bell, and the Wright brothers to lesser-known ones like Garrett Morgan, Mary Anderson, and Tim Berners-Lee. Children will learn basic information about each invention, as well as fascinating facts like how Guttenberg’s famous printing machine was made from an old wine press, how a steaming teakettle may have inspired the creation of the steam engine, and how table salt changed the history of photography. Ideal for supporting the Common Core State Standards, and a natural for fans of the hit PBS Kids show The Cat in the Hat Knows a Lot About That!, this is a great way to introduce beginning readers to science!

Catherine Thimmesh 2018-10
This updated edition of the bestselling Girls Think of Everything, by Sibert-winner Catherine Thimmesh and Caldecott Honor winner Melissa Sweet, retains all the integrity of the original but includes expanded coverage of inventions (and inventors) to better reflect our diverse and technological world. In kitchens and living rooms, in garages and labs and basements, even in converted chicken coops, women and girls have invented ingenious innovations that have made our lives simpler and better. What inspired these girls, and just how did they turn their ideas into realities? Retaining reader-tested favorite inventions, this updated edition of the best-selling Girls Think of Everything features seven new chapters that better represent our diverse and increasingly technological world, offering readers stories about inventions that are full of hope and vitality—empowering them to think big, especially in the face of adversity.

Connect the Dots with African-American Inventors
Jasmine Renner 2020-06-20
African American inventors have trailed the blaze and done remarkable feats in history through their inventions. Yet, little is known about some of them, inspite of their legacy and contribution to their generation. With inventions such as home security systems, touch-tone phones, caller ID, fiber optic cables, gas mask, traffic signals, face maker, tissue holder, animation on the web, thermo-electric energy converter, carbon filament, laser surgical device and so much more, these honorable pioneers of light have left an indelible mark in history. African American inventors span the gender spectrum from male, female, kids, and sibling inventors. We need to celebrate them. We need to etch their work in our minds and historically by connecting the dots. We must honor them by connecting the DOTs in this dynamic Connect the DOTs activity book and probe deeper, as we learn about their journeys and inventions.

Connect the DOT with African American Inventors
By Jasmine Renner is not the usual dot-to-dot activity workbook. This book goes beyond connecting the dots. This Connect the DOT book looks up! It celebrates. It honors. It is filled with HOPE and COURAGE. It is filled with LIGHT MAKERS, LIGHT BEARERS, LIGHT PIONEERS, LIGHT GAME-CHANGERS, LIGHT CONNECTORS who are AFRICAN AMERICANS. It is a positive educational and reflection tool for EVERYONE. It points us to history wrapped with service to the human race in a profound way. For your children, students, and family, it is an enlightenment tool and a fun/pastime activity that is value laden. Your kids, students or and family will learn more about African American inventors and their inventions. Stop for a moment and take your kids and students on this remarkable journey of discovering inventors and their inventions. Settle down to learn about African American productivity in its highest level. Help your kids and students them to think about the courage, grit and determination that LIGHT BEARERS had to endure to bring to us all the finest of their minds in the form of products and services. Connect the DOTs and submerge yourself into their "world" and learn something about them. This activity book can be used in any curriculum and for the study of history, science, reading and innovation. It can be also be used as a relaxation fun and past time activity for families and children. Using a "creative" and "educational" approach, this learning resource allows your kids ork your students to engage in a hands-on learning activity by connecting the DOT with African American inventors. Their names are already at the bottom of the connect the DOT worksheet which makes this DOT-to- DOT worksheet unusual yet unique. It is not the guessing of their names that matter in this connect the dot worksheet. It is the content of their innovative and inventive minds that this book seeks to laser on. The goal is for you to flip back to the answer key provided at the back of the book and read about their invention after you have connected the dots and knowm their names. You will find remarkable and eye-opening facts and stories that you and your kids or students will learn about for the first time. Fill your kids and students' mind with the goodness and positive energy that these inventors bequeathed to their generation. Do not stop there. Plan to do your own and leave a mark in history. The activity book comes with (19) printable connect the DOT with African American inventors' worksheets. In addition, the inventor's story, journey, and invention answer key is included at the back of the book. African American inventors spot lighted in this book include male, female, and sibling inventors from the 18th to the 21st century. Engage your kid(s) with this fun and educative activity and past time relaxing and giving your mind something positive to work on. Enter into the world of " African-American inventors" by connecting the dots.

Hoe maak je een ruimteschip
Julian Guthrie 2017-01-10
Op 20 Juli 1969 kijkt de wereld ademloos toe als de eerste mens voet op de maan zet. Een wereldwijde fascinatie met ruimtevaart is geboren. Ook bij de jonge Peter Diamandis ontwaakt de droom om astronaut te worden. Wanneer hij zich realiseert dat NASA bepaalde ruimtevaart aan het terugschroeven is, begint hij aan een avontuur dat leest als een jongsenok. Als de overheid hem niet naar de ruimte kan brengen, dan creëe hij het de commercie le ruimtevaartindustrie toch zelf? In 1990 was ruimtevaart voorbehouden aan wereldmachten. Het idee van commercie le ruimtevaart was pure science fiction. Het wereldbeeld Diamandis echter niet en hij vond inspiratie in het verleden: de gouden eeuw van de luchtvaart. Hij ontdekte dat Charles Lindbergh zijn trans-Atlantische vlucht had gemaakt om een prijs van $25.000 te winnen. Die vlucht maakte hem de beroemdste man op aarde en vormde het fundament voor de luchtvaartindustrie. Waarom zou hetzelfde niet mogelijk zijn voor de ruimtevaart? Diamandis bedenkt de XPrijs; een prijs van $10.000.000 voor het eerste team dat een bemand ruimteschip twee keer binnen twee weken in de ruimte weet te krijgen. Het uitschrijven van de prijs resulteerde, zoals Diamandis hoopte, niet alleen in een overwinning van een team, maar legde de basis voor een nieuwe ruimtevaartindustrie. Het buitengewone verhaal van de kogelvormige SpaceShipOne en de andere teams op jacht naar de prijs, gaat over het onmogelijke mogelijk maken en het najagen van obsessies.

Mimic Makers
Kristen Nordstrom 2021-07-13
“Young readers will be captivated by the contemporary inventors and inventions featured, and inspired to incorporate biomimicry into their own designs.” —Miranda Paul, author of One Plastic Bag and Water is Water
Who’s the best teacher for scientists, engineers, AND designers? Mother nature, of course! When an inventor is inspired by nature for a new creation, they are practicing something called biomimicry. Meet ten real-life scientists, engineers, and designers who imitate plants and animals to create amazing new technology. An engineer shapes the nose of his train like a kingfisher’s beak. A scientist models her solar cell on the mighty leaf. Discover how we copy nature’s good ideas to solve real-world problems! “Mimic Makers reveals marvels of engineering inspired by nature with images that invite careful observation and explanations that are expressive, but never over simplified.” —Kim Parfitt, AP Biology and Environmental Science teacher, curriculum developer for Howard Hughes Medical Institute
BioInteractive, and recipient of the Presidential Award for Excellence in Science and Math Teaching.
“Amazing! . . . Love that the book features the scientists and inventors, and that there is a diverse set of them. —Janine Benyus, co-founder of the Biomimicry Institute

Connect the Dots with Black Inventors
Jasmine Renner 2020-06-11
Children have cross the lines and broken the boundaries and limitations that adults are often trapped in, for ages. From the 18th century to the 21st century, children have invented and patented their inventions. They have made the world a better place by the creation of their minds. Whether by accident (Eureka) moments or deliberately, or a solution to a limitation they encountered, they have created and invented. This dot-to-dot activity workbook is a fun resource that can be used by children from K-6. It can be used for party entertainment and games, school worksheet activities in STEM classes and for history lesson plans and projects on inventors and their inventions.

This resource can also be used by families and children as a fun and past time for connecting the dots. Join your child(ren) or students as they connect the dots with kid inventors. Watch their curiosity grow to find out “who” and “what” emerges. This connect the dots for inventors activities worksheet answer key is provided at the back of the book. Enjoy the world of children as they invent and lead the way for adults to “Break the Limits” and cross lines. Happy connecting!This can be a fun activity for kids as they try to guess who the inventor is and what she invented. Included is also additional connect the dots worksheets of female kid inventors. I flipped the sequence on this one. Instead of you guessing who the inventor is, you must try to guess what they invented and when (at what age) they invented it. You get to enjoy a “past time” and an educational learning tool all wrapped in one.

Amy M. O’Quinn 2019
“Nikola Tesla was a physicist, scientist, electrical engineer, and world-renowned inventor whose accomplishments faded into oblivion after his death in 1943. He was omitted from most history books, while his colleagues and competitors (including Thomas Edison and Guglielmo Marconi) and their successes are still remembered and celebrated. Tesla was undeniably eccentric and compulsive; some considered him to be somewhat of a “mad” scientist. But in reality, he was a visionary. Many of his ideas and inventions that were deemed impossible during his lifetime have since become reality. He was the first to successfully use rotating magnetic fields to create an AC (alternating current) electrical power supply system and induction motor. He is now acknowledged to have invented the radio, ahead of Marconi. Among other things, he developed the Tesla coil, an oscillator, generators, fluorescent tubes, neon lights, and a small remote-controlled boat. He helped design the world’s first hydroelectric plant at Niagara Falls. Nikola Tesla for Kids is the story of Nikola Tesla’s life and ideas, complete with a time line, 21 hands-on activities, and additional resources to better understand his many accomplishments, as well as the inventions that still amaze and benefit us today.”--

Lisa Regan 2015-10-06
Do you have some crazy inventions up your sleeve? This book is jam-packed with Andrew Rae’s amazing drawings showing all sorts of real inventions that seem too weird to work. How about a dog umbrella? A submarine that looks like a plane... or even a shark. A swimming machine where you don’t get wet? A car wash for people? Someone has even made a device to charge your phone using a hamster! There is plenty of inspiration to get kids’ minds going, and plenty of room to add their own crazy inventions to the mix. They can design the best dune buggy ever, create a brand new sweet to share with the world, or even draw their very own Transformer dinosaur! Includes a patent certificate for their very own crazy invention!

Famous Inventors & Inventions
Speedy Publishing 2014-09-30
Famous inventors and the inventions they develop is a fascinating area of historical study that is usually far too advanced for young children. However, a Famous Inventors & Inventions Picture Book breaks that information down in a way that is interesting and engaging to young boys and girls. Instead of pages and pages of text that makes no sense to them, children can see a picture of the inventor alongside the invention they created. This helps to begin laying the foundation for this knowledge in children at a young age and may even spark their interest and imagination in this area.

Kids Inventing!
Susan Casey 2010-12-03
Have you ever seen inventors on TV or in the newspaper and thought, “That could be me!” Well, it certainly could—and this book shows you how. Kids Inventing! gives you easy-to-follow, step-by-step instructions for turning your ideas into realities for fun, competition, and even profit. From finding an idea and creating a working model to patenting, manufacturing, and selling your invention, you get expert guidance in all the different stages of inventing. You’ll see how to keep an inventor’s log, present your ideas, and work as part of a team or with a mentor. You’ll meet inspiring kids just like you who designed their own award-winning inventions. And you’ll see how to prepare for the various state and national invention contests held each year, as well as international competitions and science fairs.
